

LITTLE MAN

Lisa Simone – Lyrics/Music

Little man you should be scared
Little man your time is drawing to an end

We all know someone like you
The one who has to be noticed
You make sure everyone's talking about you
You don't even care if it's good or bad

You're a Little Man, in your head
You're the biggest, the brightest, and the best
You're so arrogant, in your head
You're a Mighty Man, such a Big man

Little man you should be scared
Little man everything you've done's gone to your head

Those who speak your name
In closed circles do it in hushed tones
Your reputation's well known
You like it like that
You're a brat parading as a fat cat

You're a Little Man, in your head
You're the biggest, the brightest, and the best
You're so arrogant, in your head
You're a Mighty Man, such a Big Man

Little Man you should be scared
Little Man your time is drawing to an end

BRIDGE:

When you look in the mirror
Do you see what the world sees
Behind closed doors
You're broken, and lonely
A real Little Man in the flesh
